The educational, cultural and social programs offered by the Deacon John Grave House are possible only with the support and participation of people like you.

By becoming a member or renewing your membership, you can help us to continue our outreach to Madison's school children and other educational groups, to offer tours to visitors from far and wide, and to continue serving as the venue for fundraising and other events that have made a real impact on our community.

Year after year the Deacon John Grave House has helped connect people today with three centuries of American country life. Contributions are tax deductible to the extent allowed by law. Your company may also offer matching funds.
